Chairman Wilson, of the Ways and Means Committee, said this morning: "The House will not attempt to the Senate by adjourning for three days at a time, so as to fix the attention of the country on the upper Chamber. "We have much important business to attend to, and shall get at it without to attend to, and shall get at it without delay."

The House Committee on Ways and Means to-day began the series of hearings it will give before it undertakes the preparation of a tariff bill for presentation to the House.

The first person scheduled to be heard was Representative Harter, of Ohio. He was unable to appear this morning, owing to sickness in his family, but will be given an opportunity to be heard later, and will advocate the placing of ngricultural implements and flour on the free list, or including them within the reciprocity treaties that are made.

Messrs, Thomas J. Wodson and Samuel A. Masters, members of the Bermuda House of Assembly, were appointed delegates to present to the Committee the arguments of the producers of the island in favor of an abolition of the duty on vegetables imported into the United States.

They showed that the imports from vegetables imported into the United States.

They showed that the imports from the United States into the islands in 1892, which they said was an average year, exceeded the total of imports from all other countries by more than 50 per cent, while 94 per cent of the exports went to the United States. And yet the value of imports from the United States exceeded the value of exports to that country by nearly half a million dollars. The duty paid on the products of Bermuda under the McKinley tariff in that period amounted to 510 per head for the whole population, and exceeded Bermuda's entire tariff receipts by more than $15.090.

Bermuda admits 78 per cent, of the imports from the United States at a duty of 5 per cent, ad valorem. Of the remaining 22 per cent, coal, ice, fresh fruits and vegetables (except potatoes) are admitted free. Specific duties are levied on cattle, tobacco and spirits.

A CIVIL PENSIONS BILL.

Government Employees Injured in the Service to Fe Benefited.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 .- A bill has been prepared and will be introduced in the Senate and House simultaneously granting a disability pension to Government employees and providing for com-pensation for injuries received in the line of duty.

The latter item of the measure grew out of the late Ford's Theatre disaster, which directed attention to the whole subject.

which directed attention to the whole subject.

The bill provides pension for Government employees injured while in its service, or retired with an honorable record through sickness or old age or other disability after twenty years service.

Widows and minor children of employees killed while in the service of the Government shall also be pensioned. Generally the pension shall be half the salary or wages received by the employee. In case of disability or accident, the employee shall be carried on the rolls at the rate he was receiving at the time of the accident and be relastated when recovered.

GOV. FLOWER'S CHEERFUL WORDS

He Believes Money Will Be Coming Out Freely Within Ten Days.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.-Gov. Flower, of New York, who arrived yesterday, speaking on the subject of the present indications of returning confidence in the business situation, said: "The business men of this country, all that are alive, deserve the greatest praise for alive, deserve the greatest praise for the manner in which they have held their heads above water and maintained their credit during these troubled days. First, they had the banks against them banks that held ou to their money storing it up, afraid to use it. Second, they had frightened depositors against them, who drew out their money and hearded it up.

"But the tide has turned. Aiready the good day has come, and I can safely predict that within ten days all this money will flow out again, and there will be an abundance of cheap money for business, new enterprises and wage workers. The section of the Bloose in voting for the repeal of the Silver-Furchase bill didwonders in restoring confidence and hastening the dawn of renewed prosperity. I am confident that the Senate will follow the good example set by the House, and that at an early day."
